I.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On June 5th, a complaint was filed in the United States
District for the Southern District of California, charging Ernest Guerrero-Rivera and Soledad Martinez-Jimenez with violating Title 8 United States Code Sec. 1324(a)(2)(B)(iii), Bringing in aliens without presentation.

1 On June 18th, 2008 an indictment was handed down by the 2 January 2007 Grand Jury for the Southern District of California, 3 charging both defendants with a violation of Title 8, United 4 States Code, sec. 1324(a)(2)(b)(ii) for Bringing in Illegal 5 Aliens for Financial Gain and Aiding and Abetting, and with 6 violating Title 8, United States Code Sec. 1324(a)(1)(A)(2) for 7 Transportation of Illegal Aliens and Aiding and Abetting. Both 8 defendants entered not guilty pleas.

9 At the deposition, the material witness testified that he 10 had flown to Tijuana from Jalisco approximately two weeks prior 11 to his apprehension on June 3rd. He testified that he checked 12 into a hotel near downtown and a man named "El Verde" came to 13 see him. Omar, Mr. Gonzaga's brother, made the arrangements 14 with El Verde. Gonzaga attempted to cross for the first time a 15 week after his arrival in Tijuana. He was caught and returned 16 to Tijuana. He waited another week in the hotel, then El Verde 17 brought him cowboy boots and told him he was going to be 18 crossing on horse back.

19 Gonzaga was taken to the border in a taxi at around 5 P.M.
20 on June 3rd. He is unfamiliar with the streets in Tijuana, but 21 knew he was close to the ocean because he could see the Tijuana 22 Bull Ring. Gonzaga said he is familiar with the Bull Ring as a 23 landmark. Using a combination of color photographs and a 24 topographical map, Gonzaga indicated that he crossed into border 25

1 state park, east of Monument Ave. but West of the entrance to 2 Goat Canyon.

3 Gonzaga testified that when he crossed, two riders were on 4 a horse, approximately 10 meters away. A second horse with one 5 rider approached him. The rider of the second horse dismounted, 6 handed Gonzaga a hat, and hopped back into the fence into 7 Mexico. The rider of the horse with two people on it 8 (identified as the defendants) made a waving gesture towards 9 him. Gonzaga first rode parallel to the border on a well marked 10 path, then turned north on an unpaved road. Gonzaga was thrown 11 from the horse at a location he recognized by identifying 12 photographs as a north/south dirt path, where the homes south of 13 the border were clearly within sight. Agent Leyva apprehended 14 him while he was walking north on the dirt path.

15 In Leyva's report, there is an "Addendum" where scope 16 operator Monica Monroy made her own statement. She stated that 17 she saw a horse with one rider separate from the horse with two 18 riders and travel down to the border were, "the single rider
19 headed south in the creek bed area. The single rider was riding 20 on a trail that leads behind a hill to an area known as "the 21 Bunkers Hill" and was out of my view... A few minutes later, the 22 single rider came back north out of the brush and headed back to 23 the couple on the horse. Monroy dropped her observation to view 24 other areas, and looked back some time later, at which point she 25 observed that the single rider had fallen off his horse.

II.

Motion to Dismiss Count One of the Indictment

Mr. Guerrero is charged in count one of the indictment with a violation of Title 8, United States Code, sec. 1324, subdivision (a)(2)(b)(ii), Bringing in Illegal Aliens for Financial Gain and Aiding and Abetting.

He requests that the Court dismiss Count One of the indictment on the grounds that it is defective in that it fails to state an offense as required by United States v. Lopez, 484 F. 3d. 1186 (9th Cir. 2007), as well as the Court's recent holding in United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, --- F.3d ----, 2008 WL 3852623 (9th. Cir. 2008.) The government has not properly alleged a crime under Title 8, United States Code, sec. 1324(a)(2)(b)(ii) charging that the defendants either:

- (1) Brought the material witness to the United States.
- (2) Aided or Abetted another in the bringing of the material witness to the United States.

Taking into consideration the language of the indictment, the court should dismiss Count one.

A. The Bringing To Offense Charged in Count One Terminates At the Time The Alien Was "Dropped Off" in the United States

In Lopez, the Court faced the question of:

"[W]hether a driver who transports a group of illegal aliens from a drop-off point in the United States to another destination in this country commits only the offense of transporting aliens "within" the United States or whether that individual is also guilty of the additional offense of aiding and abetting the crime of "bringing" the aliens "to" the United States. United States v. Lopez, 484 F.3d 1186, 1187 (9th. Cir. 2007)(en banc)

The precise holding in Lopez is that, "the (bringing to) offense continues until the initial transporter drops off the aliens on the U.S. side of the border. At that point the offense ends." Lopez 484 F. 3d at 1188. This holding was reaffirmed and amplified less than a week ago in United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, --- F.3d ----, 2008 WL 3852623 (9th. Cir. 2008.)

Hernandez involved a close review of the facts in a case where the defendant had been convicted after jury trial of both conspiracy to bring in illegal aliens in violation of Title 18 section 371 as well as Title 8, United States Code, sec. 1324(a)(2)(b)(ii). United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, --- F.3d ----, 2008 WL 3852623 *1 (9th. Cir. 2008.) The facts in Hernandez were straight forward. See id.

On June 19, 2005, Hernandez was caught driving an SUV with ten undocumented aliens through the Interstate 15 Temecula Border Patrol checkpoint located between San Diego and Los

1 Angeles, California. See id. Hernandez was identified,
2 questioned, and released. See id.

3 Approximately one month later, authorities received a tip 4 concerning alien smuggling at a San Diego "load house" just 5 north of the United States-Mexico border. See id. Agents
6 responded and observed co-defendant Drewry heading toward a 7 white Toyota Tundra SUV, which she subsequently entered. See id.
8 Agents observed Hernandez accompanying two individuals to the 9 vehicle who were later confirmed as undocumented aliens. See id.
10 The aliens climbed in the back of the Tundra, and Hernandez 11 entered the front passenger door. See id.

12 Drewry and Hernandez were arrested driving away from the 13 house. See id. In a maroon Toyota Tundra, which agents later 14 determined was registered to Hernandez, Border Patrol agents
15 recovered an incriminating ledger. The ledger documented 16 smuggling activities from Mexico to California from 17 approximately June 30, 2005, until July 15, 2005. See id.
18 Material witnesses testified to interactions with the defendants 19 inside the load house. See id. at *2.

20 The decision carefully distinguishes the difference between 21 liability under an adding and abetting theory grounded on a 22 violation of Title 1324, Subdivision(a)(2)(b)(ii) and a 23 violation of Title 18 Section 371. United States v. Hernandez -
24 Orellana, 2008 WL 3852623 *11. The Court held that the jury 25

1 could not find a violation of the substantive "bringing to"
2 offense:

3 "Because Drewry and Hernandez engaged in "the mere act of 4 picking up aliens at a location near the border and transporting 5 them within the United States," we are compelled by Lopez to 6 find that they are not criminally liable under the theories 7 alleged in the substantive "bringing to" counts." See id.

8 Therefore, the convictions for the violation of Title 1324, 9 Subdivision(a)(2)(b)(ii) were reversed. The Court also 10 distinguished the facts in Hernandez from a case with similar 11 facts where the "bringing to" conviction was upheld under an 12 aiding and abetting theory. United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, 13 2008 WL 3852623 *12; citing United States v. Singh, 532 F. 3d
14 1053 (9th Cir. 2008).

15 B. The Language in Count One of the Indictment is Defective
16 Because it Alleges Insufficient to State a Claim Under 17 Current Law

18 Count one of the indictment reads in full:

19 On or about June 3, 2008, within the Southern District of 20 California, defendants SOLEDAD MARTINEZ-JIMENEZ, aka Soledad 21 Martinez-Sandoval and ERNEST GUERRERO-RIVERA, with the intent to 22 violate the immigration laws of the United States, knowing and 23 in reckless disregard of the fact that an alien, namely, Jose
24 Guadalupe Gonzaga-Ceja had not received prior official 25 authorization to come to, enter and reside in the United States, did bring to the United States said alien for the purpose of commercial advantage and private financial gain; in violation of Title 8, United States Code Section 1324(a)(2)(B)(ii), and Title
18, United States Code, section 2.

1 This language fails the analysis of Lopez confirmed by the 2 Court in Hernandez, "[P]ost- Lopez, because the superseding 3 indictment was specific as to the identity of the aliens and the 4 precise date when they crossed the border, the mere fact that 5 Drewry and Hernandez had transported the aliens after they were 6 "dropped off" was no longer sufficient to sustain their 7 convictions." United States v. Hernandez-Orellana, supra, 2008 8 WL 3852623 *13.

9 Furthermore, the government has no facts to suggest a level
10 of participation b Mr. Guerrero beyond transporting the aliens 11 after they were dropped off. The observing border agent, 12 looking through her scope, did not see the alien enter. At the 13 material witness deposition, the alien testified, under oath, 14 that he crossed over the border fence and saw two people on 15 horseback waving or gesturing towards him. Mr. Guerrero invoked 16 his right to remain silent, there were no documents in his 17 possession linking him to other instances of smuggling.

18 The factual scenario in this case is on point with the 19 facts in Lopez. There, after completion of the "brings to" 20 offense, Lopez twice spoke to a person who might have been the 21 transporter. United States v. Lopez, 484 F. 3d. 1186, 1200 (9th 22 Cir. 2007.) This fact alone, however, did not provide sufficient 23 evidence of aiding and abetting because it could not establish 24 that the defendant "knowingly and intentionally commanded, 25 counseled, or encouraged the initial transporter to commit the

1 'brings to' offense." See id. Also merely showing that Lopez 2 knew someone who was involved with a smuggling operation in some 3 unknown way or that moving the aliens within the United States 4 after the fact of smuggling was, "insufficient to show that she 5 had the specific intent to bring about the "brings to" offense 6 or that she aided and abetted someone." See id.

7 Here, the Government can only show that there was a 8 smuggling scheme, but lack any direct evidence of the connection 9 of the defendants in such a manner that would constitute "aiding 10 and abetting." For that, reason, count one of the indictment 11 must be dismissed.

12 C. CONCLUSION

13 The course of action urged by Mr. Guerrero does not limit 14 the Government's ability to prosecute the defendants. The 15 Government could proceed merely on count two or supercede, 16 presumably with a conspiracy charge in place of the dismissed 17 count one. In any event, the law of this Circuit compels the 18 Court to dismiss Count one of the indictment.

19 III.

20 MOTION TO COMPEL DISCLOSURE OF SCOPE LOCATION

21 Mr. Guerrero reiterates his earlier request for any 22 evidence relating to the location of Agent Montoy when she was 23 viewing the incident from her remote location. Specifically, 24 defense requests the position from which she observed the 25

1 incident, and the equipment that she utilized to make those 2 observations.

3 Government counsel has indicated that it may assert 4 "privilege" in regards to this information. Mr. Guerrero 5 requests an in camera hearing to see whether there might be some 6 way to produce this discovery in conjunction with an order 7 limiting disclosure of that information. Should this motion be 8 denied, Mr. Guerrero will file a motion to suppress evidence 9 from the scope operator on the grounds of lack of foundation.

10 Mr. Guerrero objects to any successful assertion of 11 privilege as being a violation to his right to confrontation of 12 hostile witnesses as required by the Sixth Amendment to the 13 United States Constitution. The failure to disclose the 14 requested information will present severe prejudice to his right 15 to challenge the perception and observation of the scope 16 operator. The jury will no doubt be left with the impression of 17 some kind of near omnipotence, when in fact a careful cross 18 examination might demonstrate the impossibility of some of the 19 particular observations.

20 IV.

21 MOTION FOR SEVERANCE

22 Mr. Guerrero invoked his right to remain silent and his co - 23 defendant did not. The co-defendant in this case has prior 24 convictions for alien smuggling, Mr. Guerrero does not. Mr.
25 Guerrero requests severance from his co-defendant on the grounds

1 that admission of his co-defendants statements without recourse
2 to cross-examination will severely prejudice his rights.
3 Prejudice from the admission of co-defendant's statements is a 4 well-established reason for the granting of a severance motion
5 made pursuant to Rule 14. See Fed. R. Crim. Pro. Rule 14, 6 advisory committee notes 1966 Amendment, citing Schaffer v.
7 United States, 221 F. 2d 17(5th Cir. 1955.)

8 Mr. Guerrero requests to reserve ruling and argument on 9 this subject until after the resolution of his co-defendant's 10 motion to suppress statement.

11
12 v.

13 REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO FILE FURTHER MOTIONS

14 Mr. Guerrero is requesting leave to file further "motions 15 in limine" regarding the conduct of the trial. Resolution of 16 those motions can easily be accomplished on the morning of 17 trial.

VI.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Mr. Guerrero respectfully requests that this Court grant his motions.
